Space for a new Edinboro campus in Warren and a program to train desperately needed nurses may be provided if moves by State Hospital trustees are approved.

A Sugar Grove boy was one of three drowning victims in Chautauqua Lake Monday. The deaths brought the lake's drowning toll to five within the past four days.

THE NATION

James Earl Ray pleads innocent to the charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. He makes his first public appearance since being returned to the United States from London.

Justice Department officials who issued a brief in support of Justice Abe Fortas will be questioned by the Senate committee holding hearings on President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations.

Several governors challenge the view that a great deal more money is needed to solve city problems.

Steelworkers mount pressure on the industry with a nearly unanimous strike vote, hopeful the threat will produce a substantial wage-pension boost to avert a nationwide steel shutdown.

Police set up barricades to control the crowds at Abercrombie & Fitch sale. The sale items include a rumahout marked down to $2,000 and a stuffed fish for five cents.

THE WORLD

The Kremlin leadership agrees to a meeting in Czechoslovakia to discuss the liberal Prague regime's future.

Intelligence sources say North Vietnam has taken advantage of the U.S. bombing halt to repair virtually all damage done by American attacks in the past three years.

Biafra's leader predicts an early cease-fire in the Nigerian civil war and says peace talks could begin in a week.

Britain's chief law enforcement officer blames "hooligans" for violence at political demonstrations but rejects demands for further police power to quell riots.

SPORTS

The Scarlets and Golds were victorious in Summer Recreational Basketball play. Gordon Mahan has an out-of-season shot of a basketball play to illustrate the story.

A rookie pitcher named Andy Messersmith won his first major league game last night. He pitched for the California Angels against the Minnesota Twins.

There's an interesting story on a golf feud. The touring professionals, the Professional Golf Association and the club pros are all involved.

Denny McLain wants to pitch in a World Series. He may win 30 or more games for the Detroit Tigers this year, but the chance to pitch in a series means more to him, he says.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

A number of heavy showers Monday afternoon drew mixed reactions. While they helped to drop the temperature briefly, they did little to end the prevailing mugginess, drenched many people caught in the open and even added to parking problems.

The new parking lot at the foot of Liberty st., at sunset several hours after the showers, shows water standing in the middle of the lot, effectively eliminating 14 parking spaces. (Photo by Mahan)

'Hooligans' Blamed For Violence

LONDON (AP) — Home Secretary James Callaghan blamed "hooligans" Monday for causing violence at political demonstrations, but refused demands for further police powers aimed at countering riots.

Callaghan told the House of Commons he rejected opposition Conservative lawmakers' demands that massive demonstrations be banned and police and courts be given wider powers.

The demands came after an anti-Vietnam war rally outside the American Embassy Sunday erupted in violence. Forty-eight persons were arrested and 37 hurt. Elements of the mob later stoned the Hilton Hotel and the Playboy Club.

Callaghan, Britain's chief law enforcement officer, said: "The police once more showed exemplary patience in dealing with a comparatively small number of hooligans."

Callaghan pledged London police "my full support in measures to combat mob violence," but said "no one could prevent a group of troublemakers attaching themselves to a demonstration."

Callaghan added he and the police knew of other demonstrations that were being planned and believed that violence may again be attempted but gave the House no details.

Groups of arrested demonstrators began appearing in London magistrates' courts Monday.

WSH Farm Colony Land May Be Transferred to ESC

Space for a new Edinboro College Warren Campus and a program to train desperately needed nurses in the area will be provided if moves by the Board of Trustees of Warren State Hospital are approved.

Trustees at their quarterly meeting Friday, recommended transfer of the 205-acre geriatric farm colony complex on Route 62 north of Warren to Edinboro State College Warren Campus.

This action now must be approved by the State Department of Public Welfare and is likely to be effected on completion of the multi-million dollar geriatrics building.

This additional space would not only ease the cramped campus at the former East Street School but could provide a base for a new, two-year nurses training program for which an associate degree will be awarded by the college.

Dr. Robert Israel, WSH supervisor, said the nurses course was a great advance for the northern tier of Pennsylvania. He noted there are no nurses training courses at all in this area from as far afield as Meadville and Scranton.

The first class would, Israel believed, start in September of 1969 with practical experience, not included in the course, likely to be provided for in-nursing internships at a later date.

James Torrance, trustee secretary, said the campus enrollment was continually growing facilities and the col-

James Earl Ray Pleads Innocent to Murder Charge

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, pale from weeks in British and Memphis jails but neatly dressed in a dark blue suit, sat silently Monday as his lawyer entered a plea of innocent to a charge that Ray killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Judge Preston Battle set Ray's trial for Nov. 12.

Ray's appearance at the arraignment was the first time he had been seen publicly since being flown from London to

Biafran Leader Hopes For Early Cease-Fire

OWERRI, Biafra (AP) — Biafran leader Odumegwu Ojukwu says he hopes for an early cease-fire in Nigeria's bloody civil war and expects peace talks to begin at Addis Ababa in about a week.

He expressed optimism about chances for a temporary truce between the armies of breakaway Biafra and the Nigerian federalists, to get talks started.

Ojukwu also announced that the airlift of relief supplies to Biafra's starving war refugees would be intensified. He said the flights might soon be in daylight for the first time, and also hinted that he might personally visit Nigerian leader Yakubu Gowon to try and negotiate a cease-fire.

Ojukwu was cheerful and relaxed at a Sunday news conference following his return from Nnamdi, Niger, where a committee of the Organization of African Unity discussed prospects for ending the year-old war.

Reportedly drowned at 2 p.m. Monday while swimming in the lake's outlet near the Boardland in Jamestown were:

Ralph Stewart Jr., 14, of R.D. 1, Sugar Grove; and his would be rescuer, Fred Haight, 18, of 818 Jefferson st., Jamestown, former Warren County resident. Their bodies were recovered shortly after the tragedy occurred.

Reportedly drowned in an unrelated incident Monday afternoon was Carl Albert Lindahl, 35, of R.D. 1, North Main st., Jamestown. His body was discovered by the Chautauqua County Sheriff Department's patrol boat floating in the lake near Celoron. Deputies said Lindahl was fully clothed.

No further details on the drownings were available Monday night. The deaths are being investigated by Chautauqua County Coroner Frederick L. Hitchcock, the sheriff's department and the Jamestown Police Department.

On Friday, two Westfield men, Larry Mutch, 34, of 120 E. Main st., Westfield, and his father-in-law, William Mollard Sr., same address, drowned when their sailboat capsized near Dewittville.

Clarendon had been serving in the position since the death of William C. Fuelhart, CD director here for many years. Dahl has long been active in CD affairs participating in the annual all-night alerts and attending several state-sponsored CD courses. The commissioners stated they are of the opinion that the new director is well qualified for the post. Knight advised he felt he was unable to devote the time necessary to maintain CD affairs.

Bills in the amount of $4,891.89 were approved for payment.

Sept. Draft Call Will Be 714 in Pa.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania September draft call will be 714, State Selective Service headquarters reported Monday.

USSR, Czechs Agree to Meet On Czech Soil

MOSCOW (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders who are determined to press ahead with their liberalization program and Kremlin bosses who have virtually ordered them to turn back to Stalinist controls will have a confrontation in Czechoslovakia within the next few days.

It could be the showdown in the tense struggle over Prague's effort to find its own path to communism. Looming in the background is a Soviet press campaign which could justify use of tanks to crush Czechoslovak liberalization.

A curt announcement of the meeting between full leadership groups of the Soviet and Czechoslovak Communist parties followed a Kremlin attack on Prague leaders for rejecting earlier Soviet bloc advice on how to run their country.

The attack was coupled with a stern, almost threatening, Soviet assertion that the Kremlin knows what is best for Czechoslovakia.

The announcement did not mention when or where in Czechoslovakia the meeting would be held. Communist sources here heard Wednesday or Thursday in Bratislava or Kosice.

The Soviet leadership's agreement to go to Czechoslovakia followed preliminary skirmishing that indicated a minor tactical victory for Prague.

The Czechoslovak Communist party first secretary, Alexander Dubcek, had repeatedly expressed a willingness to meet separately with leaders of other Communist parties in Czechoslovakia. But he refused to attend a Soviet bloc hard-liners' meeting of five parties a week ago in Warsaw.

The Russians then publicly proposed last Friday a meeting of their 11-man party steering committee, the Politburo, with the Czechoslovak party's 11-man steering committee, the Presidium in the Soviet Union Monday or Tuesday.

The security checks, required also of the judge and attorneys in the case, delayed the start of the arraignment for 27 minutes.

WILLIAM BUCKLEY

It's unfortunate that the most publicity given San Antonio's Hemis Fair centers on film about America's shortcomings.

A few Czechoslovak Presidium members are believed to be wavering under Soviet pressure. The full 22-man meeting appeared to be a Soviet effort to drive a wedge between Dubcek and some of his comrades.

The new Soviet attack, in an editorial in Pravda, centered on Czechoslovak rejection of a virtual ultimatum from Soviet bloc hard-liners meeting in Warsaw.

V.C. Take Advantage Of Bomb Halt

SAIGON (AP) — Intelligence sources say North Vietnam has taken advantage of the U.S. bombing halt north of the 19th Parallel to repair virtually all the damage wreaked by American attacks in the past three years.

Before President Johnson's de-escalation order March 31, seven major North Vietnamese air bases north of the bombing boundary were out of action. Today all are operational, the informants said.

U.S. fighter-bombers had forced all but 10 per cent of the enemy's 75 to 100 MIG interceptors into sanctuaries in Red China. Now about half of these planes have returned to the operational bases, several of them around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The port of Haiphong, once backlogged with thousands of tons of war supplies, is now completely clear.

"The war materials are no longer stacking up," said one source. "They are being distributed."

All the major bridges and rail lines from Red China to Hanoi have been repaired. The sources said North Vietnamese laborers have built new bypasses and improved air defenses around Hanoi to guard against a resumption of bombing.

Governors Agree Money Not Answer to Problems

CINCINNATI (AP) — The nation's governors discussed poverty and ghettos today and the majority of those who spoke agreed that more government money is not the answer to the overall problem.

Democrats and Republicans alike developed that consensus. It was a crackling, down-to-earth discussion, touched off by John W. Gardner, former secretary of health, education and welfare. In a speech before the governors' first plenary meeting, he said:

"We cannot solve the awesome problems that cloud our future as a nation without spending a great deal more money than we are now spending."

When Gardner finished speaking, Massachusetts Gov. John Volpe, the chairman, called for comments. They came thick and fast, with numerous dissents to Gardner's statement.

In related developments at the national conference:

1. The governors unanimously adopted a resolution praising President Johnson. It said he has "established the best working relationship that has ever existed between state and federal governments." The resolution was introduced by California

Gov. Ronald Reagan, a Republican.

2. Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana told a news conference that George C. Wallace, third party candidate for president, is the favorite in at least six states now—one a Western state. He said if the majority parties run a close race in November Wallace's vote, as it now appears, would be "certainly enough to throw the election into the House of Representatives."

A number of the governors praised Gardner's work as a former Cabinet member but they said bluntly they did not agree with his central premise.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan said, "I disagree with the premise that money is the most essential ingredient in solving these problems."

Romney said he had studied numerous ghetto areas. "The programs that are working are the programs where people who need, 'sip show some initiative,'" he declared.

In a similar vein, Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri said, "Jobs are open to some people who won't get on a bus and go five miles to work. There are plenty of people who do not want to work."

A&F Warehouse Sale Like Macy's Basement

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's just like Macy's basement," said a perspiring salesman Monday as he looked at the crowds jamming the aisles of Abercrombie & Fitch, a sporting goods store known for its merchandise and patrons—both very staid, both very upper crust.

The store had advertised an "outrageous warehouse sale," the first in its history, including merchandise from storerooms in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

Among the items on sale: — A stuffed fish, about which the store said, "Imagine stuffing it. Someone did. Don't know what it costs. Will sell for five cents." The fish went to a boy who, a salesman said, "was here when we unloaded the truck Friday, was here Saturday and was here this morning."

— A prefab, one-room vacation house, reduced from $4,000 to $995 plus shipping costs. It went almost immediately, said a store spokesman, much to the dismay of a young couple who at 1 p.m. were about to enter the store to buy "the vacation house up on the eighth floor."

Lines of people began forming behind police barricades even before the doors opened at 8 a.m.—an hour and a half earlier than usual.

A store spokesman estimated at 1 p.m. there had been 20,000 people in the store, entering at the rate of 4,000 an hour.

Most of the people were not regular customers of the Madison Avenue store which attracts businessmen on their lunch hour with such things as fishing les-

Penelec Celebrates 20th Birthday Of 'Fun on the Range' Program

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

Today the Pennsylvania Electric Company celebrates the 20th birthday of the now famous "Fun on the Range" program. Classes of young people from age 8 to 12 will participate in the ceremonies, at the Penelec Electric Living Center here in Warren.

The big birthday party will originate at the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Center in Towanda, Pennsylvania. Some 2,000 youngsters will participate today in this "across the state" celebration.

The event features a 24-community telephone conference call hook-up with the J. F.

Kennedy Center at Towanda as the anchor location. Other participating communities include Warren, Elk Lake, Montrose Waverly (N.Y.), Canton, Bradford, Oil City, Leeper, Titusville, Shippensburg, Mount Union, Claysburg, Cresson, Davidsville, Homer City, Blairsville, Johnstown, Phillipsburg, Tyrone, Conneaut Lake, Cambridge Springs, Girard and Erie.

Former Northern Pa. Power Co., now part of Penelec, originated the "Fun on the Range" program in Towanda in 1949, as a service to the community recreation program for 8 to 12-year-olds. From its first class of 17, the program has spread to some 110 communities and boasts some 60,000 graduates.

Penelec President and Chief Executive Officer Ralph F. Bowler, native of Towanda, will help conduct the festivities. He is accompanied by other Penelec top brass.

Last Friday Mrs. Evelyn Overturn and her morning "Fun on the Range" cooking class, participated in a "dry run" exercise hooking up by telephone the 24-community celebration.

Fun on the Range classes, offering summer recreation opportunities for pre-teens, are conducted by home economists throughout the 39 county area served by Penelec. In addition to providing instructors, Penelec furnishes food and cookbooks, as well as prizes for the best projects made by girls or boys in the classes. This summer the classes taking the course from June 3 to August 23 are expected to include about 10,000 youngsters. Classes consist of four days of instruction, and special graduation ceremony on the fifth day, to which students' parents and friends are invited.

About 60 Warren area youngsters are looking forward to today's 20th Birthday party for "Fun on the Range" as they take part at Penelec's Electric Living Center here.

Mrs. Overturn reports that quite a number of young people who have taken Fun on the Range classes have been inspired to elect home economics as a career and have gone on to study this work in college. Quite a number of these undergraduates participate in the summer program in various communities. Some of these young women join the staff of the Penelec home economics department.

Nation's Governors Praise President Johnson

(c) N.Y. Times News Service CINCINNATI — The nation's governors adopted unanimously Monday a resolution praising President Johnson for "his long and devoted public service," a move designed to lure him into a personal appearance here tomorrow night.

The tribute startled some observers, since the National Governors' Conference includes a majority of Republicans, most of them highly vocal critics of Johnson, and some Democrats who were angrily snapping at Johnson's heels only 18 months ago.

The President was understandably somewhat reluctant to accept the original governors' invitation to speak at their annual banquet, but Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, the host at the 60th annual conference, was determined to persuade him. A little politicking ensued.

White House aides thought Johnson should receive a public invitation from the whole governors' group as an evidence of good faith. They were also worried that some of the Republicans, notably Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, might attack a Johnson visit as election year politics.

So the resolution praising Johnson was drafted, and Rhodes recruited Reagan himself to introduce it. There is no record of their conversation, but the position of the Ohio governor in Republican presidential politics could hardly have reduced his persuasive ness.

Rhodes will lead the 56-member Ohio delegation to the Miami Beach convention as a favorite-son candidate and will be able to deliver the great majority of its votes to whomever he chooses.

Reagan has dropped almost all pretense of being other than an active candidate for the nomination.

The Republican governors' dispute with Johnson is institutional. The Democrats' opposition goes back to a party caucus during a similar governors' conference in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., in December, 1966. At that time, most of the governors hit hard at the President and his administration in the wake of serious party election losses the month before.

The governors' resolution specifies that a copy and a silver special award plaque be presented to President Johnson at the annual banquet here tomorrow night.

There was still no final commitment late Monday that the President would come, but Johnson seldom announces such plans these days.

At the governors' morning business session, a speech by a former Johnson administration cabinet officer, John W. Gardner, touched off a round of rambling protests by a number of the governors in both parties.

Gardner, a former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, now heads the urban coalition, an effort to organize community resources to solve city problems.

Hepatitis Breeding Place

MEADVILLE — State health officials renewed their plea Sunday for all persons to stay clear of an area "hippie farm" they call a breeding place for infectious hepatitis.

The added warning came in light of a new case of the disease.

Dr. Lewis D. Williams, regional director of Pennsylvania department of health, said the new case of hepatitis was reported last Thursday. He declined to identify the latest victim, but said the patient was a male adult and is presently being treated at one of Meadville's two hospitals.

The state health aide said he believed the man contracted the disease during a visit to the hippie farm on June 11. He said the man spent three or four hours visiting with the hippies.

The farm is located near Harmonsburg about 12 miles northeast of Meadville.

Dr. Williams issued a strong warning to all area residents to "stay clear" of the farm. He added, however, that his plea is only a warning and he has no legal authority to ban persons from the area.

"It is their property (the hippies) and we can do nothing else than warn people of the danger in catching the sickness."

Rotarians Hear About 'Penntap' Services

BY FRANKLIN HOFF

R. Minor Franks, Penntap supervisor, science and technology department, Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, in a talk before Warren Rotary Club Monday noon at the Blue Manor, discussed the newly available "PENNTAP" service to business, industry, educational institutions and individuals provided by the Carnegie Library.

Franks was introduced by Mrs. Georgia Coyle, chief librarian, Warren Public Library. She explained that the remarkable science, technical and information service can now be procured through the Warren Public Library or direct from the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, The Warren library will soon be connected with the state-wide library teletype network to bring the Carnegie library service instantly to any inquirer. "PENNTAP" is the Pennsylvania Technical Assistance Program.

Franks holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration from University of Pittsburgh, a Master of Science degree in library science, and is presently a candidate for Doctor of Philosophy in information science.

The speaker explained how for years the United States has, through its technical assistance program for underdeveloped nations, stimulated in these countries tremendous advances in industry, science and development over many fronts. Through the Federal-State Technical Assistance Act of 1965, the U.S. Government has now made available the fantastic amount of technical and scientific information that has been generated in this space and atomic energy age to anyone interested.

Under this plan the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh was chosen as the resource library for PENNTAP, because it has the second largest technical collection in the United States, being second only to the Library of Congress.

Service to industry, a relatively unknown concept for public libraries, has been a vital part of the Carnegie Library's science and technology department for more than 65 years. Its collection today consists of approximately 396,000 reference and 64,000 circulating volumes as well as about 5,000 periodicals from 33 foreign countries and the United States. A staff of 13 professional librarians with scientific training, plus a larger staff of clerk-typists and other technicians, are able to answer requests for information on scientific topics promptly.

Carnegie Library has complete sets of U.S. patents from 1871 to date, as well as specifications of inventions issued by the British Patent Office from 1817 to date. In addition extensive abstracts of foreign patents are available.

Translations of the vast literature of foreign technical magazines articles are also kept up to date. 25,000 trade catalogues and 500 house organs carry information of importance to thousands of organizations. Government reports, Department of Defense specifications, and many other resources are catalogued and indexed, so nearly any question can have an answer in 24 hours. Photostat and Xerox service reproduces any information, the only charge being for the photostat.

Here Monday and all day to day at the Liberty st. parking lot, is the "Sci-Tech Mobile" which demonstrates the service provided under PENNTAP—Pennsylvania Technical Assistance Program. All management, scientific and process personnel as well as other individuals are welcome to visit this bookmobile and learn about the information available through the new PENNTAP program.

Rotary Club guests Monday included James K. Van Cosey, and John McKinley, both members of Westleyville Rotary Club; also former member Warren Rotary Club, Bill Smith of Corona, California. Dr. David Rice was song leader.

er, with Art Lydell accompanist.

Pastor Donald Spencer outlined the most important articles in both June and July issues of The Rotarian, monthly magazine of Rotary International. He particularly emphasized the message from the new president of Rotary International, Kiyoshi Togasaki, of the Rotary Club of Tokyo-Ginza, Japan. Togasaki's key word for Rotary is "PARTICIPATE!"

Dr. Roop announced next week Rotary would hear about relations between United States and India from Douglas Cochran.

County's Assistant Public Defender Resigns Post

MAYVILLE—The Chautauque County Public Defenders Office continues to have difficulty keeping personnel to carry out the work of the department.

Assistant public defender William B. Custer of Fredonia resigned Monday after being lectured publicly by County Judge Edwin G. O'Connor for showing up late in court.

The Fredonia attorney made his appearance in court nearly two hours late. Judge O'Connor criticized Custer for failing to notify court officials that he would not be on time. Judge O'Connor said it was not fair to the other attorneys involved or to the court.

He told Custer "you may take exception to what the court has just told you," in a sharp reply to the Judge, Custer said "I do take exception and I hear by resign as assistant public defender." Custer then left the courtroom.

Monday's resignation by Custer marks the second time this year he has resigned. He terminated his services with the county March 28 but was re-appointed by county Public Defender William Arrison on May 29.

To be official, Custer must file his written resignation with Marie E. Bemis, clerk of the county board of supervisors. When contacted about the incident, Arrison said "no comment," and offered no speculation on who might replace Custer, if the resignation becomes official.

Civil War Death Toll 300 Daily

LONDON (AP) — The death toll among refugees in civil war-torn Nigeria is between 200 and 300 a day, and a million people are in "dire distress," the House of Commons was told Monday.

The figures came from a report by Lord Hunt, who led a relief investigation team to Nigeria last week. The report was cited in the House of Commons by Commonwealth Secretary George Thomson. Thomson did not say whether the number of deaths included those in Biafra. The Biafran government refused Lord Hunt permission to visit the breakaway region.

Thomson said Hunt found that the primary need was for skilled people to administer relief supplies to the federal Nigerian war zone and rebel Biafra.

Panel Seeks Boarding School 'Integration'

(c) N.Y. Times News Service LONDON — The government was urged Monday to make the great private boarding schools of England give half their places to students sent there by the state, at public expense.

This was the central proposal of a commission headed by Sir John Newsom. Its aim was to "integrate" the public schools — the confusing English name for Eton, Harrow and similar private institutions — into the state educational system.

The Newsom Commission was appointed by the Labor Government nearly three years ago. At the time the labor party seemed eager to smite the public schools as a historic source of social privilege in Britain.

But now, after experience in government, labor is noticeably less eager to do anything about the public schools. The reason is simple: reform of any kind would cost money, and the government believes there are more urgent educational needs.

For example, educators believe there must be special new programs for socially deprived children in depressed urban areas.

For this reason, early action on the Newsom proposals

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I don't need advice. I'd like to give some. Please tell your readers that no woman knows for sure who her real friends are until she has announced she is getting a divorce. Here is what happened to me.

My husband and I were having trouble. I sought counseling (Jim would not go). After a while things seemed utterly hopeless so I filed for a divorce. The moment the word was out that Jim and I were splitting up, I was flooded with phone calls from people who had all sorts of "interesting" things to tell me "now that it is over."

Neighbors and acquaintances and even relatives offered to buy my better pieces of furniture (at low prices) "to help you out." Two of my closest friends applied for my job because they were sure I wouldn't want to remain in the city. A half dozen men (friends of Jim's) gallantly offered to provide the sex that would be missing from my life. (They'd have been shocked to know how little there was to miss.)

It so happens that after I filed, Jim agreed to go for counseling and now we are getting along much better. It appears now that there will be no divorce, but it was worth the trouble to learn who my real friends are.

Please tell your readers they never know what people are like until they run into marital trouble. — WISER NOW

DEAR WISER: You told them -- and in a way I never could have. Thanks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our babysitter is a nice girl, 15 years of age. Whenever we come home, even if it's as early as 10:00 p. m., she is sound asleep and we have to shake her for five minutes to wake her up.

This worries me. I wonder what would happen if one of the children became ill and needed attention. I worry, too, about the possibility of fire, an intruder, or heaven knows what. When that girl falls asleep the children are as good as alone.

What are your views on this subject, Ann Landers? I have never seen this problem discussed in your column. — MOTHER OF THREE

DEAR MOTHER: A sitter who sleeps like 10 dead elephants is of no value to you -- or for that matter to anyone else. A girl who cannot be awakened by a telephone, a doorbell or a child's call should not fall asleep. After all, she is being paid to take care of the children while the parents are absent and if she zonks out she is not doing her job.

The affair was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hammond, and sisters, Miss Ruth Hammond, Mrs. Esther Terry, and niece, Miss Suzanne Terry.

Mr. Rickerson presented his wife with a bouquet of 25 red sweetheart roses.

Refreshments included a three-tier columned cake, sandwiches, punch and coffee.

Humane Society Sponsoring Rummage Sale

Come August, comes Dog Days, the time the Warren County Humane Society has set for a Dog Days Rummage Sale to benefit homeless dogs. It is planned for Friday and Saturday, August 9 and 10, in Franklin Schumacher's double garage behind his home at 509 Market street. Since the Humane Society is a small group, it is asking everyone who has any rummage to donate it to their Dog Days Sale.

"We've already been given some old and new things to sell," said Mrs. William Schellhammer, chairman of the Garage Sale. "We're pushing for lots of antiques. That is, old things you're sick and tired of, which may be just what someone else has been searching for. So, if you have a kind spot in your heart for dogs, please contribute to our Dog Days Sale."

Several merchants have agreed to send over brand new merchandise to help the Humane Society's drive for funds. This will be mostly wearing apparel for children as well as for men and women.

"You don't need to be a member to help with the Dog Days Sale August 9 and 10," said Mrs. "Curly" Wiles, assistant chairman. "We're grateful for discarded things from anyone. Perhaps you have things your children have outgrown, but which would fit other young-

The J.E. Olsons Attend Minnesota Convention

James E. Olson of Sheffield, a Lutheran Brotherhood district representative, and a member of the William G. Frank agency of Youngstown, Ohio, attended the firm's 1968 sales convention with his wife in Minneapolis, Minn. The five-day event which was held at the Radisson Hotel in Minneapolis ended yesterday.

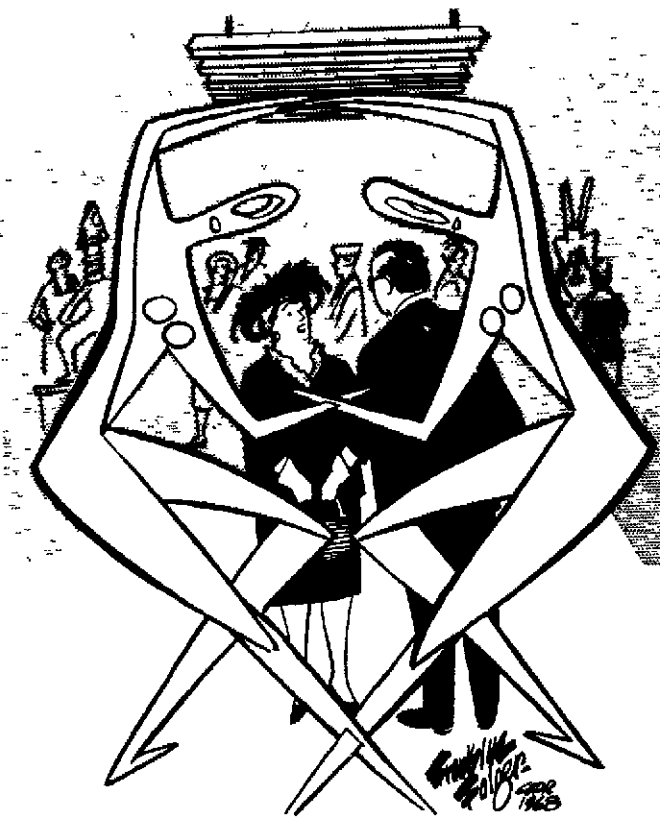

Mr. Olson qualified for the conference through his insurance sales efforts during 1967. The meeting in the home office city of the fraternal insurance society is one of Lutheran Brotherhood's top sales recognition events, said A. Herbert Nelson, president.

Speakers at the meeting included Dr. Walter A. Judd, a national affairs commentator and a former U.S. Congressman, and Senator U.S. District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, a former governor of Minnesota. Both reside in Washington, D.C. LB President Nelson was Minnesota's Insurance Commissioner in Governor Youngdahl's administration.

A feature of the meeting included sessions with Lutheran Brotherhood home office officials, leaders of the insurance industry and top Lutheran Brotherhood representatives. Mr. Olson was one of 360 district representatives from

4000 Expected At Youth Convention

ANDERSON, Ind.—Over 4,000 young people from Church of God congregation across America converge on Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 22-25, for their biennial International Youth Convention.

Headlining mass meetings will be Donald Barnhouse, Philadelphia television news analyst; Rev. James Earl Massey, Detroit, leader of one of the largest Negro congregations of the Church of God; folk singer Gene Cotton; and Mel White, youthful West Coast religious films producer.

Kenneth Prunty, director of youth ministries of the church at its world offices here, said convention general theme will be, "Power To Be."

In an effort to cope adequately with the searching-questing spirit of young people today, Prunty said small depth-involvement groups, abbreviated as DIG, will replace large conference sessions of previous conventions.

Seminars in the areas of drama, communication, science, sports, social concerns and cultural groups—new in convention format—on two separate days will tour the Twin Cities area in the spirit of ministry, in what Prunty calls a "thrust outward—journey inward."

Furniture Talk

by Carl Bartsch

"COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE"

SECTIONALS have enjoyed an amazing success story during the past twenty years. They got their start when an enterprising designer solved a space problem by cutting a long sofa in half, putting a table in between, and creating a corner arrangement.

In the beginning most sectionals were modern or contemporary in styling, straight in line, and available in two or three pieces, usually arranged in a corner setting or where one piece could be used with the table as a kind of room divider.

The practicality of the sectional sofa, especially with the architectural trend toward somewhat smaller rooms, and the consequent need to use space imaginatively, soon made it so popular that it was outselling the regular one-piece sofas.

Today you'll find sectional sofas in the most elegant rooms, especially the curved sectional, whose lines are inherently elegant and impressive. No longer restricted to modern styling, sectionals are available in traditional styles, the popular Italian and French Provincial, contemporary and Early American, and in almost any length you wish.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: I was continually buying scratch paper for my three sons until I painted both sides of a door in our family room with blackboard paint. Now I'm continually buying chalk!

They have a great time drawing pictures, doing arithmetic problems, playing tick-tack-toe, etc.

And even I use it when I want to leave a message for the family such as, "Have gone to the store to get more chalk!"

Jan

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE: If you could design something, just what would it be? M.

DEAR HELOISE: I make quite a few suits and dresses for my daughter. But I have arthritis in my thumbs and the scissors make them very sore.

Recently I was about to start on a full-length housecoat and dreaded the thought of cutting the quilted material. Then an idea came to me: "Try putting a medium weight glove on that hand." Well, I just sailed through all six yards of that material.

If you have this problem, try it, you'll be surprised.

Helen Meiners

DEAR HELOISE: Probably the number of female cigar smokers reading your column is minimal. But I bet there are many with cigar-smoking husbands or friends.

Tell them to put their cigars in an instant coffee jar with a few grapes. Softens my stale stogies and keeps 'em all fresh. When the grapes turn to raisins, replace them!

Bernie Braid

DEAR HELOISE: I like the hint about keeping turpentine in a plunger spray bottle. And that suggestion prompts me to write one to you.

Heloise

Probably a woman's purse! Whoever found one that sufficed? Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: If everyone dislikes sifting confectioners' sugar as I do, here's a dandy idea. Pour your powdered sugar into a plastic bag, securing the end of it. Then get out the rolling pin and roll the sugar and it will be smooth as silk.

Mrs. C. C. K

Works! Heloise

Vice President Humphrey Says No Deal With Wallace

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey declared Monday he would make no deal with former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and would rather not be president than have to "depend on a racist vote."

Humphrey edged back into his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination after two weeks of illness with a double-barreled volley at Wallace and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Humphrey, at an informal news conference at La Guardia Airport, also blamed a dip in popularity in the polls to his off-and-on campaigning due to the moratorium after Robert F. Kennedy's murder and his own bout with the flu.

He as much as predicted he would win the nomination on the first ballot. In addition, Humphrey said that while he was willing to debate McCarthy during the week before the Democratic National Convention which opens Aug. 26, he saw little point in any further debates since he pictured McCarthy as a one-issue candidate. He said that all he had heard McCarthy talk about was Vietnam, and that he had no proposal on how to settle the war.

Humphrey said there was some indication that "the opposition—and by this he said he meant 'the Republican opposition'" and named Richard M. Nixon and Calif. Gov. Ronald Reagan—might "like to woo" the Wallace vote.

But Humphrey said he would not, and declared: "I would rather not be president of the United States — I would rather not be nominated as a candidate for president than to have to depend on a racist vote to get the nomination."

But Humphrey's strongest remarks dealt with Wallace, the former segregationist governor of Alabama and third party candidate for president.

Humphrey was asked whether Wallace held the balance of power and the vice president replied:

"He won't hold it as far as I am concerned. Let me make this crystal clear—no deal with Gov. Wallace as far as Hubert Humphrey is concerned. No deals, even if it—the presidential selection—goes to the House of Representatives."

Humphrey tended to laugh off a suggestion by Philip H. Hoff, Democratic governor of Vermont, who proposed that Humphrey resign as vice president in order to show he was his own man.

Everyone running for office had to resign the office he was already holding, "we'd have a lot of resignations."

Miss Taylor Satisfactory After Operation

LONDON (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor was progressing satisfactorily Monday after a major operation which ended her ability to bear children.

Miss Taylor, 36, mother of three children and an adopted fourth, underwent a partial hysterectomy at London's Fitzroy Nuffield Nursing Home Sunday.

It was her second operation in a week for undescribed "female complaints."

Miss Taylor's press secretary said her womb was removed, but not her ovaries.

A hospital statement said Miss Taylor would remain under care for some time.

Richard Burton, Miss Taylor's fifth husband, remained by his wife's side during and after the operation.

Cox was wanted by the sheriff's office as result of an altercation recently at Clancy's Inn at Garland.

Soviet Union Threatens Force To Subdue Czechs

Moscow, its tone so undeniably steadily more ominous, has implied it will use force in Czechoslovakia unless anti-reform Communists there mount an immediate struggle to reassert control of the nation.

It is a race with the calendar. By September it may be too late for the hard-line conservatives in Czechoslovakia to make a comeback. Czechoslovak's Communist party has scheduled its 14th "extraordinary" congress for that time to elect new ruling bodies and the chances are that the conservatives will be swept out of office.

If the current ruling presidium of the Czechoslovak party under Alexander Dubcek is permitted to go through with these plans, Moscow will face a distasteful choice: either to use force or to retreat. The opportunity for an arranged internal upheaval will fade away.

The Soviet party has confronted Czechoslovakia's reform regime with a set of harsh, basic demands which Pravda complains are being ignored.

In an open appeal to the conservatives, who retain considerable strength in Czechoslovakia, Pravda in its latest blast asked: "Is there any need to wait for the counterrevolutionary forces to become masters of the situation... before starting a struggle against them?"

The letter—and Pravda's editorial blast Monday—also laid down the basic Kremlin demands. These included: 1) "resolute and courageous attacks on the rightist anti-Socialist forces," 2) "mobilization of all defensive means by the Socialist state," 3) an end to all activity of political organizations "acting against socialism" and 4) re-establishment of total censorship on Czechoslovakia's press, radio and television. "Socialist" in the party's language means "Communist."

A situation has arisen that is completely unacceptable for a Socialist country," the Kremlin told Prague.

What can the Russians do about it?

They can resort to naked military force, at the risk of alienating many Communists around the world and doing severe damage to the Soviet image, evoking memories of the brutal extinction of the Hungarian revolution of 1956.

Senators Sympathetic To Postmaster's Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators gave a sympathetic ear Monday to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson's plea that his department be spared manpower reductions that would force what he termed a "disgraceful" cut in mail service.

Watson told the senate Post Office Committee that it is not a matter of money but of help.

"We have the money," Watson said, "But we do not have the people to handle the growing volume of mail."

Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., told Watson he agrees that the service reductions outlined by the postmaster general under a new manpower edict would be disastrous.

Congress, in passing President Johnson's 10 per cent income surtax, demanded a rollback to 1965 levels of all government agencies.

Watson said this would mean a loss of 83,000 postal workers over a four-year period during which, he said, the annual mail volume will jump from 84 billion pieces to 93 billion.

"Something will have to give," Watson said. "That something is service."

Watson said that unless he gets clear indication before September that Congress will exempt the Post Office from the rollback he is ready to take these actions:

- Eliminate Saturday residence delivery service by November and eventually reduce such service to four days a week;
- Halt delivery service to new homes, apartments and office buildings;
- Close 500 third-class and fourth-class post offices by the end of August and eventually close all 12,000 of them;
- Leave unfilled all vacancies occurring on rural routes;
- Beginning this Saturday, eliminate window service at first-class and second-class post offices on Saturdays except for a two-hour mail pickup period.

Noting the cutback program would begin Saturday, Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., asked how it could be delayed. Watson replied he could hold off if there were signs of favorable congressional reaction soon.

Three Housing Project Tenants Wounded

NEW YORK (AP) — Three persons were shot and wounded Monday night in an apartment of a Lower East Side city housing project. The tenant of the apartment was sought by police for questioning.

An initial report that the gunfire might have been the work of a sniper brought members of the Police Department's Tactical Patrol Force into the area, with rifles and bullet proof vests.

Their presence, in turn, brought spectators swarming onto the streets or leaning from windows at Avenue D and 4th Street, a low income section of Spanish-speaking families, Negroes, European immigrants and some hippies. Avenue D was blocked off to traffic for a time.

A floor-by-floor search of the 15-story apartment building in the Lillian Wald housing project failed to turn up any sniper.

Eventually, the investigators concentrated on the second floor apartment of William Purcell, where the shootings apparently occurred. Purcell was being hunted.

One of the injured, Andrew Feliciano, 20, was reported in critical condition at Bellevue Hospital. He was said to be a tenant of the building, in a different apartment.

Janet Worthley, 22, was reported in fair condition at Bellevue with a bullet wound in the hand. Treated and released was Melvin Wright, 21, who suffered a minor neck wound.

Police said they had received reports that the four persons had been involved in a quarrel Sunday night, and that the shootings might have been an aftermath.

McLain Prefers World Series To Becoming 30-Game Winner

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain, the Detroit Tigers' outspoken right-hander, is more interested in winning the pennant than becoming baseball's first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean.

"I don't worry about 30 games," says McLain, whose 18-3 record is tops in the major leagues. "Twenty or 25 victories is a real good year. My main goal this year is to help win the pennant."

The 24-year-old pitcher, who has battled with fans, sports writers and the Tiger front office in his five-year career, was on the verge of being traded last winter.

Manager Mayo Smith wanted a leadoff hitter and offered McLain to the Baltimore Orioles in a multi-player trade. The Orioles, who wanted a pitcher, made the deal with the Chicago

White Sox and McLain stayed with Detroit.

McLain got into Smith's doghouse late last season when he injured his foot and was lost to the team in the final month of the pennant race. Detroit lost the pennant by one game.

McLain, who posted a 17-18 mark but didn't win a game in the last month of the season, said he dislocated two toes when he got up from a chair while watching television at home.

McLain has had several rows with sports writers, and blasted Tiger fans earlier this year, saying some might have been partly responsible for the club failure to win last year.

But as pitching victories began to pile up, McLain's fiery personality began to cool down. "I've matured a lot as a pitcher this year," said McLain. "It's knowing how to pitch when you don't have real good stuff. That's the big difference."

"God blessed me with a strong arm and a limited amount of ability and, I think, some brains. I've learned a lot about the hitters and how to pitch to them."

Catfish Shutout Sox

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Jim "Catfish" Hunter stopped the Chicago White Sox on six hits Monday night and hurled Oakland to a 4-0 victory with home run support from Dave Duncan and Reggie Jackson.

Hoyt Wilhelm, Chicago's 45-year-old relief pitcher, made the 906th appearance of his major league career in the ninth inning, tying the record of Cy Young which had stood since 1911.

Duncan, the Oakland catcher, walloped his fourth homer in the second inning off loser Jack Fisher with Danny Cater on base through an error by third baseman Pete Ward.

Jackson slugged Wilhelm's second pitch of the ninth inning for his 17th homer. The A's also scored in the third on Rick Monday's infield hit and Sal Bando's double.

Indians Go Into Second
BALTIMORE (AP) — The Cleveland Indians jumped on Baltimore rookie Mike Adamson for four runs in the first three innings Monday night and went on to gain undisputed possession of second place in the American League with a 7-3 victory over the Orioles.

The victory, seventh for the Indians in their last eight starts, sent them past Baltimore and within five games of Detroit's lead in the league.

Duke Sims' run-scoring single in the first inning, a triple by Dave Nelson in the two-run second and a pair of Oriole errors in the third helped stake right-hander Sonny Siebert to a 4-3 lead.

Tigers Top Bucs At Cooperstown
COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Don Wert's three-run homer in the first inning triggered the Detroit Tigers to a 10-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday in the annual Hall of Fame baseball game.

Wert's homer was one of three the Tigers collected in the game watched by 9,790 at Doubleday Field, near the Hall of Fame.

Ray Oyler homered leading off the fourth inning, and Mickey Stanley started the sixth with a homer.

Pittsburgh's lone run came in the fifth and was unearned. Manny Mota reached second when Wayne Comer dropped his line drive and then scored as Donn Clendenon singled to right.

Dennis Ribant, a former Pirate, was the winning pitcher. He worked the first five innings, scattering seven hits, John Hillier and John Wyatt each worked two innings, and neither allowed a hit. The Pirates left 12 men on base.

Ducky, Goose, Kiki, in Hall
COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Three former outfielders—Joe

GAUGHN'S BOMBS LEWIS Gaughn's Drug bombed Lewis Market last night 8-1. Joe Wozniak picked up the win while Scott Arzner suffered the loss.

Billy Cummings led the attack for the winners with a triple, and homerun. Gaughn's now carry a record of 14-0.

AUTOBODY FINISHES 9-7
Autobody finished the season last night with a 9-7 record as they edged Community Consumer 6-7. Tom Harvey picked up the win with aid from Pat Jerman while Greg Lyle and Dale Trubric shared the loss.

Autobody was trailing 7-4 in the bottom of the fifth and scored seven runs climaxed by Micky Ruby's grand slam homer to complete the season winning seven of their last nine games.

Angel Rookie Wins First

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Rookie Andy Messersmith won his first major league game and Aurelio Rodriguez and Orlando McFarlane combined to drive in five runs, leading the California Angels to a 6-5 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday night.

Lonborg Wins First
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Lonborg, the 1967 Cy Young Award-winner, hurled six strong innings and gained his first victory of the season as the Boston Red Sox trounced the New York Yankees 7-6 Monday night.

Lonborg, a 22-game winner a year ago, walked eight and hit a batter but allowed only one hit, a first-inning single by Roy White. Three walks brought White around with the Yankees' only run off him.

Lonborg came out after walking the leadoff batter in the seventh.

The Red Sox backed him and two relievers with a 16-hit attack. Ken Harrelson tied the score in the fourth with his 22nd home run and Dalton Jones broke the tie with a two-run shot in the fifth, his first of the season.

Boston added two more runs in the fifth on a walk to Harrelson, Reggie Smith's double and Rico Petrocelli's single.

The Yankees, trailing 7-1, scored twice in the eighth, including Tom Tresh's seventh home run, and three in the ninth on Rocky Colavito's two-run triple and a single by Tresh. But Sparky Lyle got Andy Kosco on a ground ball to end the game.

Medwick, Leon "Goose" Goslin and the late Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler—were inducted formally into baseball's Hall of Fame Monday.

Goslin and Medwick were on hand to accept the plaques presented by Commissioner William D. Eckert, while Cuyler, who died in 1950, was represented by his widow, son, daughter and two grandchildren.

Scarletts and Golds Win Rec Basketball

The Scarletts downed the Oranges, 68-54, and the Golds outlasted the Blues, 62-48, in Summer Recreational Basketball League play Monday night.

The third quarter told the difference in each game.

The opener saw the Scarletts and the Orange go into the locker room at halftime just four points apart with the Scarletts leading 28-24.

They were end Mike Bailey of West Texas State; linebackers Mac Byrd from Southern Cal; Joe Egrezits of Gettysburg; and Bob Leach of Northwest Missouri State; running backs Charlie Davis of North Carolina and Willie Turner of Jackson State; and defensive tackle Tim Houston of St. Norbert's.

team suddenly got hot at the outset of the third stanza and the Oranges couldn't seem to do anything right. To add to their woes big Randy Jones ran into foul trouble midway through the third period and had to sit out a spell.

The 26-12, eight minute bulge spelled the difference and despite the fact the Orange outscored its rivals 18-14 in the final period, the game by this time was out of reach.

The Scarletts featured a well balanced scoring attack with four men in double figures. Rob Loranger led the way with 21. Jones despite his foul problems paced the Orange with 18.

The two teams who played the nightcap seemed like they were following the script. At the half it was Golds 28 and the Blues 25, but again it was the third quarter that was the difference. Led by the hot hand of Dan Krumm the Golds, coached by Arnold outscored their rivals by a 26-9 count and then coasted the rest of the way.

Krumm was the top scorer with 20 while lanky Don Lyle hit for 17. For the Blues, Larry Spence and Rob Schorman shared scoring honors with 15 apiece.

Next Monday night will be the final night of regular season play and the teams will once again play two games beginning at 6:45. Next weeks double-header card, weather permitting, will be played at Beaty

Golf's Tournament Pros Feuding with the PGA

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Golf's affluent tournament pros and the parent Professional Golfers Association are feuding again, with a break imminent in the fall.

Talk has been renewed that the game's top tourists—perhaps as many as 50 of them—will strike out on their own and form an independent corporation outside the PGA umbrella. "I haven't heard anything of it yet, only talk, but I wouldn't be surprised," Max Elshis, president of the PGA, said Monday.

"Lawyers of the two sides are trying to work out an agreement that we both can live with. I don't know what will happen. "I do know that we can't keep facing up to these crises every year. We must reach a permanent understanding or go separate ways. Perhaps it would be good for them to try it on their own for a while to see if it will work."

Mumblings of discontent, jagged nerves and bitter feelings were noted beneath the surface of the PGA championship here last weekend, won by Julius Boros with a 72-hole total of 281. Jack Nicklaus complained about the over-abundance of club pros compared with touring pros—about 2 to 1—and termed the field "ridiculous." He played indifferently and failed to make the cut. The Pecan Valley Course, particularly the 18th hole, was sharply criticized by Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Tom Weiskopf and others. Weiskopf also failed to make the cut and left the premises in a huff.

The open sores were further aggravated by revelation that Robert Creasy had been named to a three-year contract as Executive Director. Creasy's removal was one of the demands of a players' group in the threatened 1967 strike.

An uneasy peace was reached at Cleveland in the summer of 1967 with the formation of an appeal body made up of the four top PGA officials, the four-man Players' Committee and a three-man arbitration board to be mutually acceptable to both sides.

"This has never worked," a PGA spokesman said. "The players say they don't want any arbitration board telling them what to do."

The latest report is that a large group—perhaps as many as 50—is prepared to set up an independent organization outside the PGA and set up a private tour if its new demands are not met.

Independent promoters and men with money are said behind the move. The principal demand is that twenty-five players would be guaranteed a minimum of $40,000 a year and another $5 at least $30,000 a year under contract to play in at least 30 tournaments.

What the players want is almost complete autonomy in the conduct of their tour. They want to fix tournaments and set television monies. They resent club pros, who make up five-sixths of the PGA membership, telling them what to do.

WHITE HITS THE JACKPOT

It took Lee White five months to get what he wanted, as far as a professional football contract was concerned. Lee was the first round choice of the New York Jets in the football draft. According to the terms of his Jet contract, he will get a bonus of almost $50,000, and an annual wage of about $17,500 for at least three years. A fullback for Weber State, he is six foot, four, and weighs 240.

Denise Carter Scores Upset In Pennsylvania Tennis

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Denise Carter, 17-year-old blonde daughter of a tennis family, stunned top-seeded Karen Krantzke, while the five seeded men who played advanced Monday on the first day of the week-long 68th annual Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships at the Merion Cricket Club.

Miss Carter of Los Altos, Calif., whose mother and father once played at Wimbledon, eliminated Miss Krantzke 7-5, 6-0 in an upset which shook the staid, century-old in the Philadelphia suburbs.

In the men's field, top-seeded Bob Hewitt and his South African Davis Cup teammate Ray Moore didn't arrive from Europe in time for their first round matches and move into action Tuesday. Second-seeded Charlie Pasarell, the No. 1 ranking U.S. player and Uncle Sam's No. 2 star, Arthur Ashe, advanced to the second round in relative breathers.

Pasarell, of Santruce, Puerto Rico, stormed over B. P. Stephenson 6-1, 6-0 while Ashe romped past A. H. Billington 6-2, 6-1. The losers represented a combined Oxford-Cambridge team from England. Among the women, second-seeded Vicki Rogers, eighth-ranked American distaff player, survived with a 6-3, 6-0 triumph over New York's Mimi Kanarek; third-seeded Vickie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, Calif., had a bye; while fourth-rated Patti Hogan of La Jolla, Calif., beat Chris Beck of Philadelphia 6-0, 3-6, 6-1.

Kristy Pigeon, Danville, Calif., defeated Sue Behlmar, of Rockville, Md., 6-2, 6-1. Laura Roussouw of South Africa downed Gretchen Vosters, University of Delaware senior, 6-0, 6-1, and Maryna Godwin of South Africa trimmed Charlotte Atwater of Lancaster, Pa., 6-1, 6-1.

Parker Wants More Money

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers said Monday that defensive tackle Frank Parker, obtained in a trade with Cleveland, and offensive tackle John Brown were the only two veterans who didn't report to training camp.

The club said Parker was holding out for more money while Brown was given permission to report late while he repaired damage at his flooded Cleveland, Ohio, home. "We offered him (Parker) more money than he earned last year but he didn't accept," a Steeler spokesman said.

Parker and quarterback Dick Spiner came to Pittsburgh in a trade with the Browns for quarterback Bill Nelsen and defensive back Jim Bradshaw.

Coach Bill Austin also said the National Football League club has scrapped an experiment that would have converted Roy Jefferson from flanker to defensive halfback.

Fish Commission Names McWilliams

HARRISBURG (AP) — Douglas E. McWilliams Jr. of Bear Gap, Northumberland County, was elected president of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission Monday.

McWilliams succeeds Howard Heiny of Williamsport for a one-year term. Elected to replace McWilliams as vice president was Clarence E. Dietz of Bedford.

In other action at its quarterly meeting, the commission approved a proposed change in regulations to prohibit the publication of trout stockings until they are made. A spokesman said the move was aimed at preventing fishermen from following stocking trucks.

The commission also agreed to assume fish management over a proposed 225-acre lake to be created in Montour County by the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co.

The 1969 trout season was set for April 12 through Sept. 1, and the commission said starting time for the opening day would be moved back from 5 to 8 a.m. to allow urban dwellers a chance to get to the fishing areas.

READING, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles announced Monday that four more veterans had signed contracts for the 1968-69 National Football League season.

Ending brief holdouts were linebacker Fred Brown, defensive backs Al Nelson and Aaron Martin and receiver Fred Hill. Thirteen other veterans, including quarterback King Hill, tight end Gary Ballman and defensive back Joe Scarpatti, still have not come to terms with the Eagles.

The team opened training camp at Albright College here eight days ago when rookies reported. The veterans were scheduled to report Sunday.

Jim Skaggs, the veteran offensive guard, came to camp Monday, bringing the total players to 69.

Rec League

DeVore's Lumber triumphed over Surf Club last night in make-up play for the Rec League 18-8. The slug-fest was all DeVore's as they batted around in the bottom of the second inning to total eight runs.

Dave Holmberg picked up the win while Jim Dahler is charged with the loss. It was a good night for DeVore's as the victory pulled them out of a batting slump.

Triples aided the win as Werner, Stanton, Gene Smith and Holmberg each cracked one. Holmberg also snagged a double along with Herk Smith and Olsen.

Kurz and Anderson smashed homers for the losers. Kurz also managed a triple while Woods and Hancock added doubles.

Liberty Bell

Liberty Bell is one of a number of sites being considered for flat racing in Pennsylvania. Four tracks would be set up, under a flat racing bill passed by the state legislature.

A Liberty Bell spokesman said there was no indication whether the northeast Philadelphia track would be recommended as a flat racing track.

GOLFING WITH Arnold Palmer

Golf's first Million Dollar P.G.A. Winner

PRESERVING YOUR POWER

In the swing of most golfers, clubhead speed has started to lessen by the time the ball is struck. Good players strive to preserve maximum clubhead speed until the clubface is on the ball. Only then does this speed decrease—as a result of the resistance of the ball itself.

The preservation of clubhead speed until impact occurs as a direct result of maintaining cocked wrists until late in the downswing (see illustration).

The wrists will remain cocked during the downswing only if the left side dominates. This side must pull the arms and, eventually, the clubhead into the ball. However, this pulling of the left side must occur with the head remaining behind the ball. There should be no lateral movement of the upper body to the left as the lower body pulls in that direction.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠
A daring maneuver paid off a handsome reward in this hand, when East uncovered the only defensive strategy to offer a chance of defeating South's four spade contract.

West opened the ten of diamonds, and East paused to consider the situation before he made a play. From West's lead, it was obvious that declarer held the king of diamonds. Unless West held a singleton—which appeared to be very remote—the defense could take only one trick in that suit. Altho East held two trump tricks, he despaired of finding his partner with any significant honor strength, for South's jump game rebid strongly suggested that the latter had all the missing topers.

East concluded that any hope for scoring a setting trick hinged on his obtaining a heart ruff. In order to retain a possible entry to his partner's hand, he decided to duck the opening lead, on the chance that West held the nine of diamonds and could eventually get in with that card.

South was in with the king of diamonds at trick one and he promptly led the queen of spades in an attempt to draw trump. East played the king of spades and returned the ten of hearts. A spade was led from dummy and East put up the ace and shot back a small diamond. West was more than a little surprised to suddenly find himself on lead with the eight of diamonds—however, he dutifully returned a heart and East scored the setting trick with the deuce of spades.

In spite of the dazzling footwork exhibited by the defense, declarer could have foiled their efforts by returning a diamond at trick two. This would have eliminated West's entry before the ruffing situation had been established. We would be reluctant to point the finger of scorn, however, at South for failing to uncover the winning counter strategy.

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars, FOR TUESDAY, JULY 23, 1968.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Even though planetary influences are somewhat on the mild side, solid gains can be registered if you operate in a quiet, efficient manner. Avoid haste and pressure and you should do well.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Your Venus propitious. Especially sponsored: Sound business transactions, real estate deals, artistic matters, family interests.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—This should surely be one of your will-to-win days, with so much of opportunity, friendship and esteem on your side. Resolve to do your utmost, while emphasizing your bright personality.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Study trends. Are you on the right track? Intuition and instinct can assist you if properly utilized. Stress accuracy. Be direct but not abrupt with others.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Planetary aspects generally advise against hasty speech, thoughtless acts. Day has plenty of advantages for those who are alert and ambitious. Keep to your highest standards.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Tabulate matters to be worked upon; arrange them according to importance. Set plan of attack, then FORWARD! Be cautious in unfamiliar ventures, however.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

WOOLING SLEEP

Pain, anxiety, and insomnia are common medical complaints. Almost every second American thinks he has trouble falling asleep, and more than a million of this group use barbiturates every night. We say "think" because most insomniacs get more sleep than they realize. When lying awake, minutes seem like hours, and the harder the individual tries to sleep, the tenser he becomes.

Sleep still is a mystery. Slumber is something enjoyed by all, and we believe that the respite is truly good for us. But why we sleep is not so important as why we stay awake. Dr. Nathaniel Kleitman believes that a "wake center" in the brain is constantly bombarded with impulses to keep us awake. When this process stops, the sandman takes over and we relax and drift off to the land of nod.

Anxiety causes insomnia and vice versa. Those with true insomnia should take stock of their daily activities to try to determine the source of tension. When problems are solved before bedtime, relaxation follows. Tricks to induce sleep would fill a book. Some take a warm bath, count sheep, drink hot milk, wear a mask over the eyes, or ear plugs to absorb noises. Others switch from a hard to a soft mattress or a big or little pillow. Still others resort to bromides, barbiturates, or one of the hundreds of tranquilizers, soporifics, and sedatives. Each new product claims to induce sleep, which is doubtful. Recently I received a ream of material on electrosleep, a method said to be popular in Europe.

According to an editorial in The Journal of the Medical Society of New Jersey, Homer said: "Sleep is the twin of death." Poor Richard warned: "Up, sluggard; waste not of life: The grave will be sleeping enough."

TOMORROW: Tricks for Hearing.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

ABNORMAL BRAIN WAVES

C. N. writes: Can abnormal brain waves ever be made normal?

REPLY:

Yes, but this does not mean that the underlying disease is cured. Brain wave patterns may return to normal after encephalitis, brain tumor, or stroke. Abnormal brain waves in the major type of epilepsy (grand mal) are not affected by treatment, whereas those of petit mal return to normal after the patient takes drugs that control the attacks.

DIFFICULT SWALLOWING

S. T. writes: Why is it that when I swallow a liquid, or even saliva, it often gets into the windpipe and nearly chokes me? This makes me afraid to swallow anything.

REPLY:

Swallowing usually is automatic but a mistake happens now and then. On the other hand, when the occurrence becomes frequent, examination should be made to determine whether the parts are functioning properly.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT:

Adjust driving habits to weather conditions.

MORE LAMBS SOUGHT SYDNEY (AP) — Australian ewes might produce four lambs a year instead of one if experiments at Melbourne and Sydney universities are fruitful.

A ewe produces a lamb in just under five months and, at present, spends five months feeding it, has two months on pasture, and then the breeding cycle is repeated.

In the Australian experiments for a higher birthrate, the lambs are taken from their mothers at one day old, and hormones are given to ewes in the hope they will produce twins every time.

Professor Derek Tribe, of the Commonwealth Bureau of Agricultural Economics, said that in the experiments lambs taken from their mothers were given a liquid diet based on whole milk powder for three weeks, then fed solid food. The results, he said, were promising, and the mortality rate low.

Skitch Henderson Featured In Chautauqua Concert

CHAUTAUQUA, New York—Skitch Henderson will conduct the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra and be guest soloist for the Pops concert in the Amphitheater here on Wednesday, July 24, at 8:30 p.m.

Skitch Henderson, composer, conductor, pianist, is a true product of the twentieth century. A master of Beethoven, Berlin, Porter and rock'n'roll, he is one of the most prolific music makers and recording stars in the nation. Skitch Henderson's Columbia recordings for dancing, for listening and for relaxing are sold around the world. Known to millions through the media of television and recordings, Skitch Henderson has played for kings, presidents and debutantes.

He is especially proud of having been chosen to conduct most of the major symphony orchestras in both America and Europe, most recently being chosen to conduct the Royal Philharmonic at the invitation of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II. At the specific request of President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, he personally conducted for Mrs. Johnson's New England Beautification Benefit.

During a 24 hour period recently, Mr. Henderson rehearsed the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra on Tuesday morning; flew to Buffalo that evening for a debut; returned to New York City the next morning for a recording session; and was off again to Cincinnati to conduct the Symphony Concert that evening.

SKITCH HENDERSON

The distinctive Henderson musical style is also in demand at campuses across the nation. His music is considered by students as the sound that is up to date... the big name music of the sixties.

Admission to the Wednesday night pops concert of the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra with Skitch Henderson as guest conductor and soloist is by ticket purchased the night of the performance at the Chautauqua gate.

'Glass Menagerie' Opens July 23 for Two-Week Run

The fourth play of the season at Plowright Playhouse, "The Glass Menagerie," by Tennessee Williams, opens Tuesday, July 23 for a two week run. It plays through Aug. 3, except for Sunday and Monday nights.

The setting of the prize winning play is an apartment in an alley in St. Louis, where you are drawn into the lives of four characters.

Williams' characters are acknowledged to be based on his own family life during a period in the thirties. Tom Wingfield, the counterpart of Williams himself, acts as narrator for this play of "memory" as he describes it. The narrator sets the mood for the play and also becomes one of the characters within the play.

This role is played alternately by Jeff Knupp and Richard Hines. The role of Laura, Tom's sister, is also double cast, with Ellen Abrams playing the first week and Marjorie Melnick the second week. The cast is completed by Lois Byham, who plays the mother, Amanda, and Joe Nicolini who plays the "gentleman caller."

Both will play the two weeks. Miss Byham is known as the leading lady of the Plowright Playhouse company, and will be especially remembered for her role last season as Martha in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Amanda Wingfield is a product of the gracious living of the Old South, who has been forced by circumstances into a completely different kind of life. She clings desperately to the past, trying to raise her children by herself under trying circumstances.

Jeff Knupp, who will open in the part of Tom, has a long line of acting credits, beginning with his high school years in Warren. He will also be remembered for his portrayal of Hal in Warren Players' production of "Picnic." A recent graduate of St. Olaf's college in Minnesota, Jeff was involved in directing and acting in college productions.

Richard Hines, who has appeared in Warren Players' productions and at Plowright Playhouse last summer as Stanley in "Streetcar Named Desire," He is a student at Emory-Riddell Aeronautical Institute in Daytona Beach, Fla., where he was active during the past year with the Daytona Playhouse.

Ellen Abrams and Marjorie Melnick are both members of the acting company at Plowright Playhouse. They have appeared this season in "Luv," easy having done one week. Ellen was also in "Come Back Little Sheba," the opening production at Plowright, and Marjorie played one week in "Tartuffe" in the role of Dorine. Ellen attends Boston University, majoring in drama, and Marjorie attends the University of Connecticut, where she is a senior in the drama department. She is directing the next production at Plowright, an original play "The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch," Joe Nicolini, director of the play as well as a character in it, makes his home in Lakewood, N.Y. He is active with the Jamestown Little Theatre, Warren Players, and the Plowright Playhouse, where he played last season in "The Subject Was Roses." Joe is from New York City, and has an extensive background in theatre. Among other things he studied at the American Academy of Dramatics Arts there. He and Plowright's leading lady in last year's "Streetcar," Becky Norris, were married in April. Curtain time at Plowright Playhouse is 8:30, and reservations may be made by phoning 757-8252. The theatre is located in a barn on the West bank of the Kinzua Dam and Reservoir, 10 miles from Warren.

Former Warren Area Artist Honored at Chautauqua

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

Mrs. Maritza Morgan of Chautauqua, formerly of Warren and Jamestown, was signally honored at ceremonies in observance of annual Library Day at Chautauqua Institution this past weekend.

Mrs. Morgan was presented a plaque, which will be placed permanently on the map of Chautauqua which is a part of the series of murals she painted in the new children's library which has been created in the basement of Smith Memorial Library.

In making the presentation, Mrs. A. W. Rappole, president of the Friends of the Library, commented on the delight Mrs. Morgan's circus mural paintings give to both young and old, remarking that Maritza Morgan had "painted her heart in to the pictures."

Following the formal meeting and lecture in the Hall of Christ, open house with refreshments was held at the library, where visitors were able to inspect the new children's library. Formerly a storage area, this spacious room has been embellished by Maritza Morgan's murals, and nearly all furniture and book stacks are installed. It is accessible from the main library, and also has its own entrance from the outside.

Since the Smith Memorial Library was built in 1931, it has had a children's book section, but until now never a room devoted to the children's library. Some idea of its immense popularity with children is the fact that from its opening on June 1, 1968, until Friday, July 26, 2,315 books have been circulated from the new facility. More than 200 children attended a puppet show last Thursday, July 25, presented by Chautauqua Puppet Players.

Special address of the day was a slide talk by Miss Jewel Helen Conover, eminent artist, lecturer and author, and until her retirement in 1966 professor of art at New York State College of Fredonia, and visiting professor at various institutions of higher learning. Since her retirement Miss Conover has intensified her research on architecture of the 19th Century. Her book on Greek Revival Houses of Chautauqua County has attained wide acclaim. As a part of Library Day, a group of large photographs of houses included in her book were displayed. Her book and researches have aroused national interest in 19th Century architecture.

Miss Pauline Fancher, librarian of Smith Memorial Library, introduced the members of her staff, then presented the speaker.

ACS Elections Set

Charles Camp, chairman, Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, today designates boundaries of each community in the county where elections of ASC community committees will be held. Elections are by mail ballot. All ballots must be returned to the Warren County ASCS office or postmarked no later than September 16 to be valid.

Chairman Camp reminds farmers that elections will choose three committeemen and two alternates for each community. The chairman, vice-chairman and third regular member of the elected ASC committee will also serve as delegates to the county convention, held soon thereafter, where farmers will be elected for vacancies on the ASC county committee. Alternate committeemen serve as alternate convention delegates.

Farmers eligible to cast ballots will be those eligible to participate in one or more of the national farm programs of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, which the committeemen help administer locally.

Election notices have been sent to all eligible voters on record.

Major activities administered in 1967 under supervision of ASC committees in Warren County include:

177 farms took part in the Agricultural Conservation program, with $53,068 disbursed during the year.

25 farms in the Cropland Adjustment program received $8,202.

In the feed grains program, for corn, 833 acres in Warren County were diverted to other crops, with diversion payments amounting to $32,711. Price support payments on 257 acres on which crops were grown totaled $4,231.

Under the wheat certificate program, with 210 acres on which crops were grown, the amount to farmers was $5,374.

The Soil Bank, or Conservation reserve program, involved the diversion of 2,492 acres, farmers receiving payments under the program totaling $34,105.

In the Wool price support program of loans and purchases 10 producers received $1,252. In addition, the Department of Agriculture, through the ASCS, supported prices of such commodities as dairy products, tobacco, peanuts, etc., through purchases or other operations not handled by local farmer committees.

Monthly Meeting

William Troxell, district engineer, state highway department, Franklin, has advised that representatives of the Bureau of Municipal Service, will hold monthly meetings with the supervisors and secretaries of the 242 subdivisions of the district. Sessions in Warren County will be conducted at the court house from 9:30-11:30 a.m. on the second Friday of each month. Subject matter will deal with the use of Liquid Fuels Funds returned to the county for distribution.
